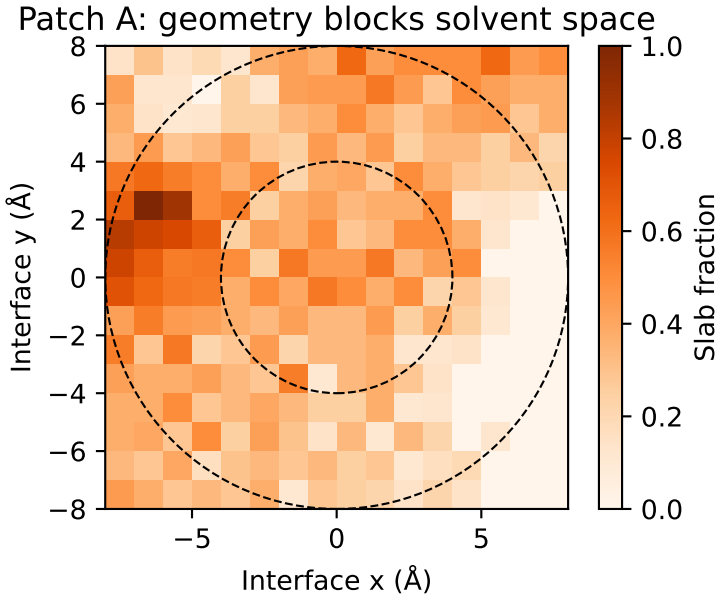
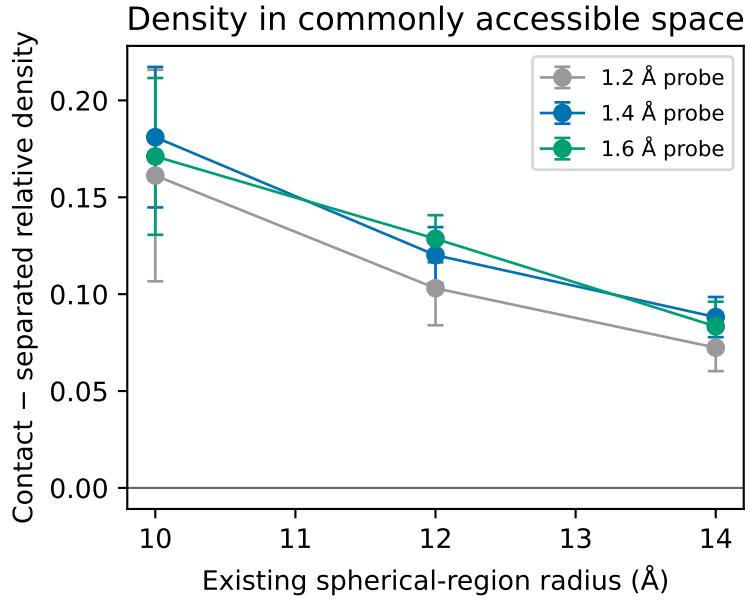
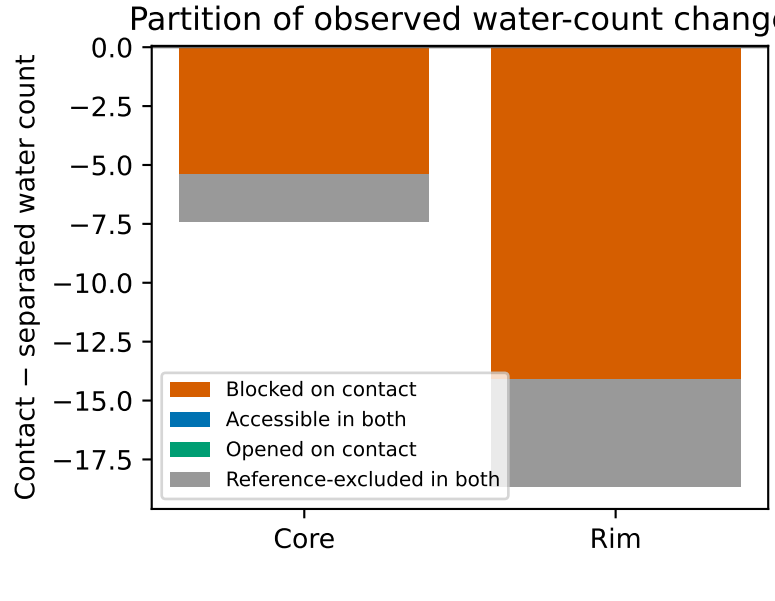
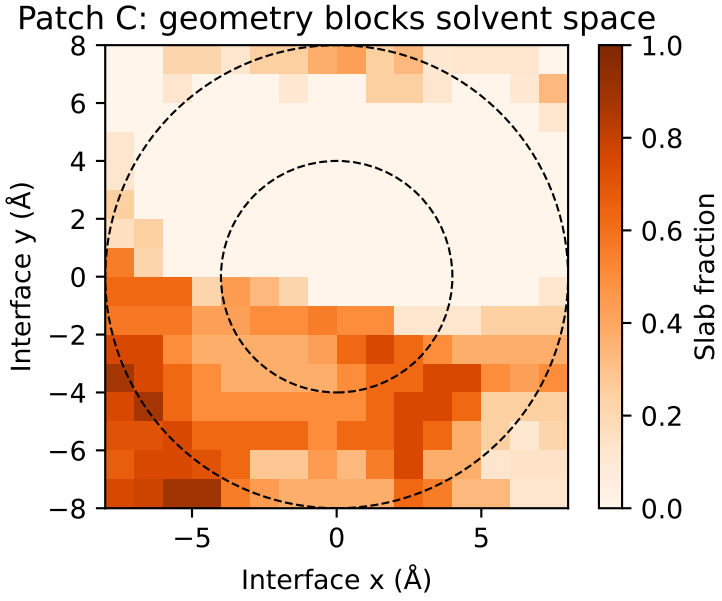
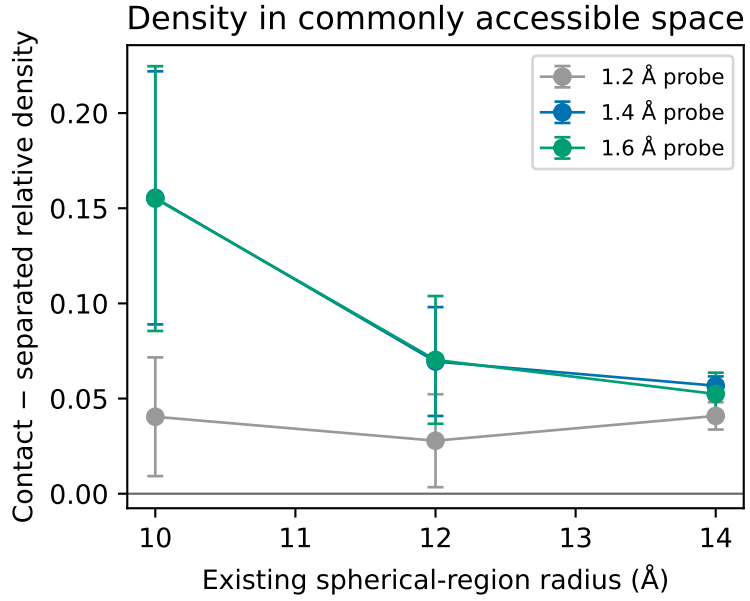
Water loss coexists with increased density in the remaining accessible region

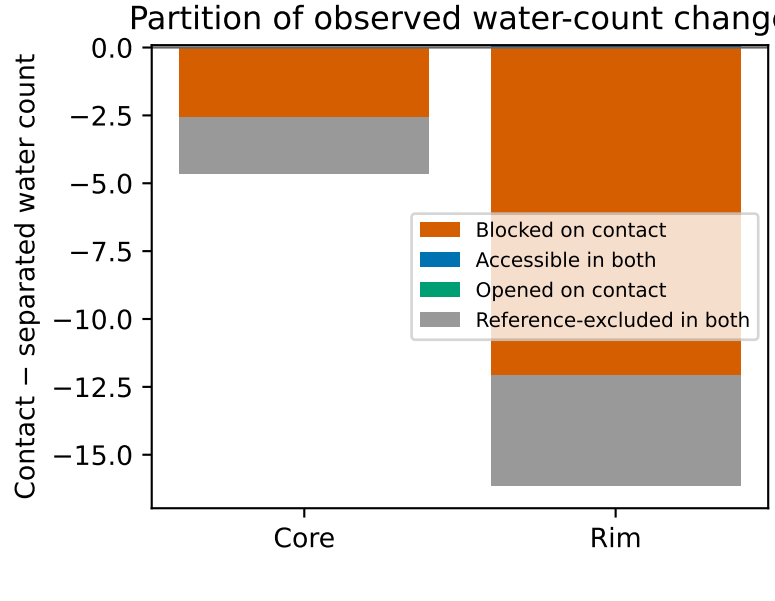












State-specific static geometry; three velocity histories/state. Geometry classes partition counts, not causality or binding free energy.